In re:

ACACIA MEDIA TECHNOLOGIES CORPORATION,

Case No. C 05-01114
MDL No. 1665

[PROPOSED] ORDER RE: SUMMARY
JUDGMENT OF NON-INFRINGEMENT
AND INVALIDITY FOR INDEFINITENESS OF U.S. PATENT NO.
6,144,702

Date: February 24, 2006
Time: 9:00 a.m.
Courtroom: 8, 4th Floor
Judge: Honorable James Ware

1 Having reviewed and considered Acacia's Motion for Entry of Judgment of
2 Noninfringement and Invalidity for Indefiniteness of US Patent No. 6,144,702 and Certification
3 Pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 54(b) ("Acacia's Motion"), all supporting and opposing papers, and 4 arguments of counsel, the Court hereby finds that:

5 On December 7, 2005, the Court issued its "Further Claim Construction Order; Order
6 Finding Claims Terms Indefinite And Claims Invalid" ("Order"). In the Order, the Court found,
7 among other things, the following:

- 8 1. that the claim term "sequence encoder," which appears in independent claims 1
9 and 17 and in dependent claims 7, 18, 32, and 33 of U.S. Patent No. 6,144,702
10 ("the '702 patent"), is indefinite;
- 11 2. that the claim term "identification encoder," which appears in independent claims
12 1, 17, and 27 and in dependent claims 5, 6, 19, and 31 of the '702 patent, is 13 indefinite; and
- 14 3. that the claim phrase "transmission system at a first location," which appears in 15 independent claims 1, 17, and 27 of the '702 patent, means "a transmission system
16 at one particular location separate from the location of the reception system."

17 In Acacia's Motion, Acacia has admitted that the Court's findings that the terms "sequence
18 encoder" and "identification encoder" are indefinite, renders all of the claims of the '702 patent
19 (claims 1-42) indefinite, and therefore, invalid, under 35 U.S.C. § 112, ¶ 2. See Acacia's Motion
20 at 2. Further, Acacia has also admitted that the effect of the Court's construction of the phrase
21 "transmission system at a first location" as meaning "a transmission system at one particular
22 location separate from the location of the reception system," renders all of the claims of the '702
23 patent (claims 1-42) not infringed by the defendants in this MDL case. Id.

24 The Court also finds that Acacia's Motion has not shown that a Rule 54(b) judgment is in 25 the interest of sound judicial administration.
